Continuing Care Assistant

The Continuing Care Assistant (CCA) program prepares students to deliver short or extended periods of assistance and support services to people in various care settings. This program equips students with the necessary competencies to deliver appropriate, timely, and respectful person–centred care. The program integrates theory and practice through the use of classroom, laboratory, and placement learning and experiences.

Once a student has successfully completed all components of the program, a provincial exam will be administered by the Nova Scotia Continuing Care Advisory Committee. The cost of the exam is included in tuition fees.

Career Options:
Client Residences
Long-Term Care Facilities
Home Support Agencies
Acute Care Facilities

CCA Hourly Pay $15.63 – $24.00
